BAG SNATCHERS CAUGHT BY POLICE

MET SIMILAR FATE BEFORE

Chased by Arlington police, two young men who were driving a stolen car, were arrested in a Somerville tavern a few minutes after they had snatched two handbags from Arlington women late Saturday night. The arrests were made by Patrolmen Gerald Duggan and John Ryan.

Shortly before 11 o'clock, police were notified that a woman's pocketbook had been snatched by two men who were riding in a car on Lake st. A few minutes later, a second handbag snatching was reported on Henderson st.

Patrolmen Duggan, Ryan, Greeley and Timothy Hourihan sped to East Arlington in two cruiser cars. A chase ensued and in an attempt to get away, the snatchers, driving (Continued on Page Five)

12th Storm Hits Town

Although one day behind schedule, three more snowstorms visited Arlington during the past week, raising the total number of storms to 12 thus far this winter.

The usual Friday storm failed to develop last Friday, but snow started to fall late Saturday night and by Sunday morning 8.7 inches of the white stuff, largest amount in the unusual series of storms that began Christmas week, had been deposited. This raised the total snowfall since late November to 47.2 inches.

Plan To Raze Clark Stable

A permit has been issued by Building Inspector Paul Mossman to Theodore Bernson of 17 Sunapee road for the demolition of the old Clark stable at 30 Mystic st., to make way, according to a Building Department spokesman, for a modern block of stores.

The former stable was used as a second hand furniture store in recent years and is now used for the storage of furniture.

Plans call for an attractive colonial brick building containing five stores at 30 to 36 Mystic st., near Winslow.

Social Security Benefit Payments In Arlington $21,313 Monthly

More persons were receiving monthly old-age and survivors insurance benefits at the end of 1947 than at any previous time in the history of this Federal insurance system. This was reported by James T. Phelan, manager of the Cambridge office of the Social Security Administration in a year-end statement.

Estimates supplied by the central office of the Social Security Administration show that at the end of 1947, 1,975,000 persons throughout the nation were receiving monthly benefits at an average monthly rate of $38.10, 000. This compares with 1,642,000 beneficiaries and an average monthly rate at $31,081,000 one year.

Benefit payments in Arlington by type of beneficiary are approximately as follows:

	Number	Monthly Benefit
Retired workers, aged 65 or over	462	$12,224
Wives, 65 or over
of retired workers	175	2,681
Children of deceased or retired workers	174	2,472
Widows, regardless of age, of deceased workers who have in their care one or more unmarried children under age 18	201	3,937
Total	1012	$21,314

Still a problem is the fact that old-age and survivors insurance benefits are being lost because of delayed claims, Mr. Phelan said. Many persons are still unaware that benefits are payable only if

Annual Meeting Of Girl Scouts Due Wednesday

The annual meeting of the Arlington Girl Scouts, celebrating the closing of the 26th year of Girl Scouting in Arlington, will be held at the Robbins Town Hall next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The speaker will be Marie C. Linstead, Rosindale High School senior, who was one of four girls chosen (in competition with thousands) by the Girl Scouts to be their United States delegates to the Juliette Lowe International Conference at Adelboden, Switzerland last summer. There were 13 delegates, two from Poland, two from Ireland, two from Luxembourg, two from Switzerland, one from Brazil, and four from the United States.

Miss Linstead's experiences as she traveled through England, France and Switzerland and her three weeks of living with girls from other countries should be most interesting to hear. All parents and friends of Girl Scouts are invited to attend.

Marycliff Dance

On Friday evening, Jan. 30, there will be a dance at Marycliff Academy, Winchester, for the girls of the High School, and boys from Saint John's Preparatory School in Danvers. The winning posters and essays will be on exhibition at the Feb. 19 meeting of Arlington Woman's Club, that being Public Health Day.

This contest is sponsored by the Arlington Cancer Committee, Arthur O. Yeames, chairman, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, vice-chairman.

The contest was arranged by the sub-committee on schools, Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, chairman, assisted by Miss Helen Heffernan and Mrs. Humbert Beckett.

Miss Ridall Engaged

Kimball Voter Here Since '89, Records Show

J. Edwin Kimball, who has resigned as cemetery commissioner after serving on this board since 1903, has been a registered voter in Arlington since 1889, according to records at the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder.

Commenting on the former town official's long years of service, the town clerk wrote Mr. Kimball as follows:

"Dear Mr. Kimball: We have your letter of the 6th tendering your resignation as Cemetery Commissioner, and are transmitting it to the Honorable Board of Selectmen for its action with the remaining members of the Cemetery Commission."

"It is interesting to note that our records show that you qualified as a registered voter in the Town on October 21, 1889; and that you were elected a Cemetery Commissioner at the Town election held March 2, 1903, at six o'clock in the morning, having received 814 votes. You were sworn in on March 6, 1903."

"You have been a registered voter for just on fifty-nine consecutive years, and a Cemetery Commissioner for just on forty-five years—a record of citizenship and gratuitous civic service to your Town that should make you swell with pride. I am sure our citizens are most appreciative of and grateful for your stewardship."

"Many changes have taken place in Arlington since 1903, especially in the size of its population and the valuation of its real estate, but outstanding and glorious is the fact that with its growth through the years Arlington's foundation remains strong and secure, its reputation and renown undimmed—and in my humble opinion it has been kept so by tireless and unselfish men like you who have had its best interests at heart first, last and always."

"Hoping you will have many happy and healthy years in Arlington to enjoy the companionship of your legion of friends, and with every good wish, I beg you to believe me

"Yours truly,
EARL A. RYDER"

Co-operative Banks Financing Construction of Many Homes

Walter T. Chamberlain, executive vice-president of the Arlington Co-operative Bank, called attention yesterday to the highly creditable record of the 175 Co-operative Banks of Massachusetts in the financing of new homes.

Building activity has varied in different parts of the State, but these banks made in 1946 no less than 1900 loans on new homes, in the amount of $11,000,000, and 2600 such loans in the first 10 months of 1947 for a total of $16,000,000. All this new construction, financed by Co-operative Banks, proves conclusively that something is "being done about housing" in Massachusetts.

Locally, the Arlington Co-operative Bank has made 48 new home construction loans for $324,350.00 during the same period, and is continuing to co-operate to the fullest with builders and contractors in this area.

HENRY WALLACE'S DECISION

Henry Wallace's decision to head a third party ticket next November was hardly a bombshell. The former vice-president has been playing tag with the idea for a long time and sending up the customary trial balloons. He has been prodded by various "left or center" groups, and by those who take a much more lenient view of Russian policies and intentions than do the Republican and Democratic leaders. What his formal announcement has done is to open up a whole new chain of political possibilities.

It remains to be seen what luck Mr. Wallace will have in getting on the ballot in the various states. Every state has different laws in this regard, and the variations are extreme. In Iowa, for instance, two voters can call a convention and place a candidate in contention. In Massachusetts, by contrast, about 50,000 names are needed to ring the bell. The matter is further complicated by laws concerning party affiliations and other technicalities. Generally speaking, the political air is not favorable to third parties. The last effort, by Representative Lempe, was an utter flop. Prior to that, the elder Senator LaFollette made a strong campaign but the best he was able to do was to carry his own state of Wisconsin where, at the time, his Progressive Party was firmly in the saddle. The best attempt of all, of course, was that made by Theodore Roosevelt with his Bull Moose ticket. He had the advantage of being an ex-president with a tremendous and loyal personal following, but he couldn't win. Normally—because of our elective system which gives a candidate receiving a bare majority of the popular vote in a state that state's entire vote in the Electoral College—a third party head wins nothing, and is important only to the extent he can take votes away from one of the major candidates.

This latter point is what makes Mr. Wallace's bid significant. He claims to have inherited the mantle of Franklin Roosevelt—though that claim is vociferously denied in the Truman camp. Practically every political reporter thinks that he will cut into Mr. Truman's vote, and thus be a very strong asset to the Republicans. That is the obvious deduction, but there is another side to it. It is possible that what the Democrats regard as the Wallace menace will help in solidifying the party and lead to an extra heavy Democratic turnout in November. Again, if Mr. Wallace shoots the works in denouncing Truman policies, it might give the President some on-the-fence, "sympathetic" votes.

One novel suggestion is that the Wallace candidacy could be a definitive factor in the selection of the Republican candidate. That theory, valid or fanciful as it may be, runs like this: Mr. Wallace will take away enough votes from Mr. Truman to make the key states of New York and California safe for the Republicans. Therefore, it is no longer necessary to nominate Mr. Dewey to carry New York, and the palm should unquestionably go to Senator Taft, the leading mid-westerner.

Coming down to the campaign itself, Mr. Wallace's domestic program will be unadulterated New Deal. This may take some of the thunder away from Mr. Truman.

THE COMPETITIVE SYSTEM IS WORKING

Congress' "inflation control" bill will not pull the props from beneath high prices. That is an obvious impossibility so long as such factors as government spending, wages, and consumer purchasing power remain at present levels. What the bill does is to give government sanction and encouragement to voluntary agreements for more efficiently allocating and using scarce goods, and for breaking up bottlenecks.

The advocates of iron-clad, police state price control and rationing claim that this is totally inadequate. But what they don't point out is that involuntary controls would mean the eventual death of the competitive, supply-and-demand system. High prices seem to have blinded many people to the fact that the system is working extraordinarily well now. We are getting great production—and we seem to be the only nation in the world that is. We have the most efficient low-cost distribution machine on earth. The chain stores, the independents, the department stores and the rest are giving us goods in abundance—and their unit profits are as low and in some cases are lower than in the days of O.P.A. or in the pre-war era.

The price charged under the competitive system is the honest price, based on production costs. And competition sees to it that it is the lowest possible price.

An intelligent doubt is the beginning of the discovery of truth.

No Such Thing As Inflation Says Babson

(Exclusive to The NEWS)

MOST of the talk about "inflation" is bunk. When people have nothing else to lay their troubles to they lay it to inflation. Merchants blame high prices on inflation; politicians blame all losses on inflation; while even farmers are blaming the weather on inflation. Certainly the investigations which are being held to study prices are mostly eyewash or whitewash.

Inflation is not the fault of farmers, manufacturers, retailers or any other one group. In fact, there is no such thing as "inflation". Our troubles are just a question of Supply and Demand. When there is more demand for goods than there is supply, prices go up and they call it inflation; but when there are more goods than there is demand, prices go down, and they call it deflation.

This means that the only cure for high prices, or inflation so-called, is to either curtail buying or increase production. This means that the cure is up to all of us. When we spend less, we are helping to reduce prices; while if we increase our buying, we increase prices. The only other cure for high prices is to produce more. This is up to labor. The real trouble with labor is not their wages so much as it is their restricted working hours and faulty production.

What Should We Expect?

We should expect to continue to pay high prices for real estate until building increases, and the only way that building will increase is to allow rents to go up. Price fixing also retards production. So long as production is low then we are troubled by high prices. Take the ceiling off on rents and, of course, rents would go up for awhile, but that would mean building would increase, and finally rents would go down. Only then would we all have enough homes at a reasonable price.

We complain about the price of meat and various other things, but sooner or later the price of these products will be so high and the profits so attractive it will cause many more people to go into the business of raising cattle and other farm products, and manufacturing other things that have gone up in price. These prices will again fall. It is true that the "mills of God" grind slowly, but they grind ultimately in the people's interests. Labor unions succeed in raising money wages but not real wages. Unless wage workers increase production as their wages increase, they are no better off in the end.

What Has Happened to Citrus?

What has happened to the market for grapefruit and oranges is a proof of all I have said above. It costs much more to raise citrus fruit today than ever before. Wages are much higher, fertilizer is more expensive, and even the railroad freights are greater. Yet, the prices for citrus fruits today are less than they were when the cost of production was much lower. If all our troubles are due to "inflation", inflation should help the citrus growers with higher prices to overcome these higher costs.

The answer is that there is no such thing as "inflation". It is only a question of supply and demand. Citrus growers do not benefit unless there is more demand for their products. In Florida we see the cattle people very prosperous while the fruit growers are very sad. The reason is that there is an excess demand for meat with a small supply, while there is a big supply of citrus and a small demand. Neither the price of beef nor the price of citrus is due to "inflation".

We all should buy the things which are in surplus supply rather than, through habit, continue to buy the high-priced things. The next time you go shopping, ask the clerk to give you a list of the things that haven't gone up, and then change your food customs to using those things. This also applies to shoes, clothing, and household furnishings. Now that the turn of the year is past and there are "sales" going on, this is the time to do your buying. Wise buyers will stock up with goods during the month of January while these mark-down sales are in progress.

The NEWS OBSERVES

High snowbanks, towering above automobiles so that they cannot be seen as they turn into one street from another, constitute a new and very dangerous hazard this winter. Children who are forced to walk in the street because of unplowed sidewalks should be most careful when crossing street intersections. The same holds true in the cases of driveways where property owners have been obliged to shovel snow into high banks at each side of the drive. Watch out for cars coming out from behind snow banks!

"Seed catalogues help a man dream," says the Boston Herald, "and life without dreams is but the beating of muffled drums." Anyone who has pored over the pages of such catalogues showing luscious fruit and vegetables and gorgeous blooms, that one never seems able to match in his own garden, will agree.

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers has received information from the United States Coast Guard at Washington, D. C., that a competitive examination for appointment of cadets to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., will be held on Feb. 16. The examination is open to Arlington young men between 17 and 22 years of age who have graduated from high or preparatory school. The Coast Guard Academy prepares young men for careers as officers in the United States

Universalism And Salvation

The Universalist Church observes communion, not as a sacramental means of salvation, but rather in the spirit which Jesus asked his disciples to eat together in memory of his teachings and his example. Communion in a Universalist church is a service of commemoration, and of re-dedication of those partaking to their highest ideals. This observance is always open to all.

Universalism teaches that a man is saved by the character he develops. The many "saviors" of various religions save, not through supernatural means but by their teaching and example. Universalism emphasizes the need of men working together to bring salvation here upon the earth, confident that if all men do all in their power in this direction on earth, that eternity may safely be left with God. The General Superintendent of the Universalist Church of America, Dr. Robert Cummins, will preach Sunday, January 25th, at 10:45 A.M. at The Arlington Universalist Church upon his findings on his recent trip to Europe. The general public is invited.

Coast Guard . . . Congresswoman Rogers will be glad to send application forms to the young men interested. They should write to her at Lowell or Washington, D. C.

Boston and Cambridge are not the only communities towing away cars that interfere with snow plowing. Violators are experiencing the same sad treatment locally. On car found in the middle of Newport and Gloucester sts., Wednesday night was towed away under police orders.

Troop 23

The members of Troop 23 recently entertained their mothers at tea at the home of their leader, Mrs. J. Herbert Gunnerson.

The 10 fields of activity in Scouting were cleverly presented in rhyme. During this time gifts made by the girls were given to their mothers.

Arlington Host to C. of C. Presidents; 125 Hear Babson

More than 125 members and guests of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce attended the highly successful Presidents' Night held Tuesday at the Robbins Town Hall.

Arthur J. Mansfield presided and introduced several presidents of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade from neighboring communities, all of whom were seated at the head table. They included Gordon B. Sovey, president of the Belmont Board of Trade; Robert G. Duncan, president of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce and the Harvard Trust Company; Frank Townsend, executive secretary of the Cambridge Chamber; Samuel Parker, president of the Lexington Chamber of Commerce; Thomas Baltzer, president of the Somerville Chamber of Commerce; Melvin Coombs, executive secretary of the Medford Chamber of Commerce; and Bert Welbourne, national affairs advisor of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Others at the head table included Rev. Laurence L. Barber, who gave the invocation; Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, Miss Isabel Gratto, secretary of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce; William C. Adams, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and Mrs. Adams; and Arthur Babson, vice-president of Babson Reports, Inc., who was the guest speaker. Mr. Mansfield also introduced, among others, several town officials, candidates for town office, five officials of the Harvard Trust Company, and Robert M. Boyd, recently elected president of the Boston Board of Fire Underwriters.

Chairman Adams of the Board of Selectmen greeted the visitors and members of the Chamber and congratulated the Chamber of Commerce on the constructive work in which it is engaged. He pointed out that members of the Chamber have an opportunity to meet the public and thus pass on constructive criticism to the various town boards.

Mary T. Bunker, program chairman, introduced Thure Hulten, director of the Viking Chorus, who entertained. He was accompanied by Mrs. Einer Larsen.

During the business meeting, Timothy Good, Jr., and Harold Magnuson were elected trustees of the Chamber.

New members accepted into the Chamber were J. Stanley Garrett, 731 Massachusetts ave.; Frans O. Mattson, 362 Massachusetts ave.; William J. Holland, 245 Massachusetts ave.; B. Harold Rogers, 717 Massachusetts ave.; Berkeley Cue, of Berkeley Cue, Inc.; William Tabler and Richard Tabler of 156 Massachusetts ave.; and Adler M. Hanson of 10 Sunnyside ave., all but one of whom were sponsored by Jesse Hutchinson.

Favors Marshall Plan
Speaking on the "Business Outlook for 1948", Mr. Babson, a former Westerner and a Navy officer, stationed in India during the last war, went on record in favor of the Marshall Plan. "Here we are enjoying a higher standard of living than ever in our whole history. We must help others abroad or sooner or later we will be dragged down to their level," he said.

In opening his talk, Mr. Babson called attention to the high price of eggs, butter and other commodities, and pointed out that the national income in 1947 was 200 billion dollars, a record high. "Yet," he added, "we all seem to be in doubt about the future. It is still difficult to get many commodities. What then can we look forward to?"

He mentioned, first, that we must consider the welfare of foreign countries, "whether we like it or not." He said the United States had spent 350 billions to wage World War II and that it is not unreasonable to spend 15 or 20 billion more to consolidate our position abroad. He explained the average person had no idea of how much property had been destroyed abroad and that hope should be given to the people of Europe.

Sees No War in 1948
Minimizing the possibility of a new war in 1948, he said this could be averted through economic means.

Turning to economic picture in this country, he brought out that the seven million new families since 1940 had created a pent-up demand for goods.

The Taft-Hartley law will bring more order out of the labor chaos, he predicted, and he forecast a strong possibility of a Republican victory in November.

The meat situation will be very severe by Summer, he predicted.

He also forecast lower prices a year from today.

He expressed the opinion that this was not a good time to build and pointed out that while business will be good in 1948, it was a poor time to go into debt and that inventories should be watched.

He said the enormous demand for capital expenditures will continue and brought out that interest rates are likely to increase.

Concluding, Mr. Babson said, "We don't want to forget about the human values. If we are to avoid the chill of depression, we must reduce the fever of inflation through more production. Wholehearted cooperation between capital and labor is needed, and only a fine application of Christian values will lead us along the right road."

During the question period, Mr. Babson defined the Marshall Plan as a "plan to help European countries get their house in order. It's a calculated risk and undoubtedly will be sabotaged by the Communists."

Arrests

A car allegedly stolen in Watertown, collided with another automobile on the Henderson st. bridge. A passenger in the second car was injured and removed to the hospital for treatment. Meanwhile Metropolitan District Police were also alerted.

Police kept up their pursuit into Somerville. The officers followed the pair to the tavern where the men were arrested. Taken to police headquarters, they were identified by the women whose pocketbooks had been stolen, police said. The pocketbooks and contents, totalling $26.26, were recovered. A set of stolen registration plates was also found in the car used by the snatchers.

Charged with unarmed robbery, the men captured gave the names of Ralph Laviolette, 22, of 108a Inman st., Cambridge; and George Safarian, of 27 Dimick st., Somerville, police said. They were arraigned before Judge Stone in the East Cambridge Court Monday morning and ordered held in $10,000. The case was continued to Jan. 28.

Storm

Churchgoers were hampered Sunday morning as it was humanly impossible for the public works department to plow out every street before church services. Bitter cold followed on Sunday and, on Monday, elementary schools remained closed. Hardly had the job of plowing been completed and more snow had been removed with snowloaders during the zero weather that followed than a second storm hit early Wednesday morning — again one day later than the usual Tuesday fare. "No-School" signals had to be sounded Wednesday morning.

Although this storm was lighter, it proved the most disagreeable to date since it was followed by heavy rain in the afternoon and streets were turned into rivers of slush and water. Clogged storm drains could not take care of the flow and pedestrians waded into water over their ankles. What sidewalks were plowed were turned to glare ice as the temperature dropped by nightfall.

Many Auto Accidents

Again many automobile accidents occurred in Arlington during the week, the most spectacular being on the Mystic Valley parkway at Mystic Lake drive Monday afternoon and on Warren st. Tuesday night. Autos overturned in each case.

In another accident involving two autos and a truck on the Concord turnpike at the Pleasant st. underpass late Friday night, one person was injured and the other was shaken up.

According to police a car driven by Francis J. Tomeo of Curtis st., Somerville, was about to make a right turn on the ramp above the underpass when his car was struck by an express truck operated by Clarence E. Briggs of Ayer.

Another auto driven by Cyril R. Pratt of 81 Alexander ave., Medford, following the truck, tried to pass it on the left but was caught by the truck. The truck jackknifed and toppled over onto Pratt's car.

The driver of the truck suffered back injuries while the Somerville man was shaken up.

Icing Conditions Serious
Serious icing conditions, noted for the first time in years, are causing grave concern. Heavy snow which remained on rooftops has melted and turned to ice which has clogged gutters. Water backing up on roofs has already damaged ceilings and interior walls in many homes. In some cases, porch roofs have been weakened under the strain of heavy snow and ice. It is feared now that damage from this unusual condition will run into thousands of dollars in every community in this section.

Accident

This was the second similar accident to happen to Mr. Gilroy, father-in-law of Town Treasurer J. Wilbert Anderson. Sixteen years ago, Mr. Gilroy was struck by an auto at the same place where yesterday's accident occurred and at that time one of his legs was also fractured. His leg was fractured below the knee in yesterday's mishap.

Extremely icy conditions caused several falls yesterday. Most seriously hurt in a fall was Belle Simpson, of 12 Newton road, who injured her left arm when she fell on the sidewalk on Chestnut st., near St. Agnes' church.

The victim was treated by Dr. Shea and later removed to the Symmes Hospital in a police car.

More snow yesterday left a blanket on icy streets and sidewalks, creating even more dangerous conditions under foot and on wheels.

Legion Auxiliary Notes

The Middlesex County Council meeting of the American Legion auxiliary will be held tomorrow at Junior High East.

Luncheon will be served at 12 noon and the meeting will start at 2 p.m. Arlington unit 39 will be host and all members have been urged to attend.

Arlington delegates are Mrs. Sophie Weslowski, Mrs. Evelyn Weslowski and Mrs. Helen Dahill. Alternates are Mrs. Elizabeth Witus, Mrs. Jennie Kurrus and Mrs. Gladys Kiehl.

A bridge and whist will be held next Tuesday at 2 o'clock in Legion Hall, 370 Massachusetts ave.

A joint meeting will be held with the Arlington Legion post next Tuesday at Legion Hall. An entertainment will follow the business meeting.

This will be the first joint meeting held in recent years.

January and February Worst Driving Months, Chief Warns

"You can beg, you can warn and you can threaten, but there are still a few motorists who fail to fully realize the added driving hazards caused by snow, ice and poor visibility."

These were the words of Chief of Police, Archie F. Bullock, as he appealed to all vehicle drivers for their co-operation in careful driving during January and February, the worst months for severe weather and road conditions.

A recent report by the National Safety Council shows that 65 percent of all traffic accidents in several snow-belt states took place on ice and snow.

"Any driver who will guard against these two dangers — poor traction and poor visibility — should get along all right," Chief Bullock said. "The use of anti-skid chains and driving at reasonable speed will give the driver pretty good stop-and-go traction on snow and ice. Properly working windshield defrosters, wipers, and carefully aimed headlights will aid the driver's visibility under cold and snowy weather conditions."

A list of seven winter driving rules, based on tests by the National Safety Council and recommended by the International Association of Chiefs of Police, follows:

1. Adjust your speed to weather and road conditions. Be extra careful at intersections, curves, bridges and school zones.
2. Use tire chains for severe snow and ice conditions. Steel skid chains reduce braking distances on snow and ice 40 to 70 per cent, and give needed "go" traction to start or climb hills.

3. Make sure your windshields wipers and defrosters are in good working condition. You must see hazards to avoid them.

4. Be sure your brakes are equalized. Brakes that are not equalized will grab and cause your car to go into a skid more easily on snow or ice.

5. Lights should be correctly aimed. Never drive so fast that you can't stop within distance illuminated by your headlights.

6. Don't jam on brakes to stop. Pumping them will prevent brakes locking and your car going into an uncontrollable skid. Remember that good tire treads help on dry or wet pavement, but will not aid stopping on packed snow or ice. Nor will "rubber chains" help on ice or packed snow. Tests proved they actually increase distances over that of bare tires.

7. Get the "feel" of the road surface when you start out. Try it for slipperiness before you have to make an emergency stop.

Congratulations!

ARLINGTON DOWNED, 4-2

Despite a brilliant exhibition by Bill Leary whose solo dashes electrified the fans, Arlington High's hockey sextet was downed by Medford, 4-2, in a GBI game at the Boston Garden Saturday afternoon.

Leary scored one goal and assisted Gerry Kiniry in Arlington's other tally.

Medford, however, combined a strong defense with the usual goal-tending by Randy Whately to prevent any further Arlington scoring.

Medford took a 2-0 lead in the opening period, center Charlie Abele, the GBI's top scorer, lifting one into the net shortly after the initial faceoff, followed by Bill

Ford who took a rebound for the second score.

Leary scored in the second period, but Abele chalked up another—his 16th this season—in the same frame. He was unassisted. Frank Torporzer of the Mustangs next scored, unassisted, to make it 4-2 in favor of Medford.

Medford and Belmont share honors in pacing the league. The 3500 fans were somewhat startled by Rindge Tech's surprise victory over highly favored Newton, 2-1, which highlighted the weekly GBI fare.

Summary:

MEDFORD—Whately, g; E. Powers, rd; Duffy, ld; Abele, c; Mc-Nair, rw; Gaffey, lw.

ARLINGTON—Campbell, g; Leary, rd; Emery, ld; Shea, c; Donovan, rw; Kiniry, lw.

"DOC" McCARTY

There are thousands of McCartys. Some live in every town. But there's one above all others. Deserving of a crown.

He's known as "Doc" McCarty. By every girl and boy. And every man in Arlington. Where he is hailed with joy.

He's a quiet little fellow. And modest as can be. But he knows the art of training. From A right down to Z.

Through many years his fame's been known. For wonders he has done. In bringing boys to racing peak. And victories he has won.

He's never boasted of his deeds. And never sought reward. But he's gained a million friends. And won their high regard.

We cannot find the proper words. To tell the praise we hold. For friendly "Doc" McCarty. Whose heart is purest gold.

But golly, we all love him. For the way he's played the game. And we're proud, and will be always. Of his undying fame.

Arlington Skaters Top Stoneham, 6-4

The Arlington Hockey Team notched another victory a recent night at the Boston Skating Club, racking up a 6-4 win over Stoneham in a Boston Amateur Hockey League contest.

The first period was all Arlington as Fernberg opened the scoring and Dobry added two for the Menotomy Towners. In the second period Kineave converted a Donovan pass to make it 4-0 while the Stonehamites couldn't find the net. At the 11-minute mark in the second canto, however, W. Cogan scored for Stoneham and Jordan added another a few minutes later.

The two-goal lead Arlington in good stead as the third period saw each team adding two goals. Fernberg and Kineave flashed the light for the locals while Manuel and Livingston notched the Stoneham markers.

The Arlington club will meet an on-off North Cambridge sextet in the third game of next week's BAHF card at the Skating Club. Soldiers Field road, Brighton, with face-off scheduled for about 10 o'clock. The evening's other encounters will see Dedham attempt to stop league-leading Needham and Melrose tackle Stoneham.

Caldwell Heads Community Club

At the annual meeting of the Arlington Community Club, M. Frank Caldwell professionally known as Frank Lane, was elected president for 1948; Edward J. Connor, vice president, Dr. Richard Baker, secretary, and Earl Ryder, treasurer.

Many plans have been made for the coming year, the first of which is a dinner at the February meeting at the Arlington Academy of Music, at which Arthur McCabe, former U. S. secret service agent, and personal body guard to, Ex-President Roosevelt, will be the principal speaker.

The new executive committee held their first meeting at the home of Dr. George Schofield. Present were Earl Ryder, Manuel Gonzales, Ed Connor, Ernest Haseltine, Hugo Barrata, Bert Woodbine and Frank Caldwell.

Soap Box Derby Plans Outlined at Lions Meeting

A busy business session followed Monday night's dinner meeting of the Arlington Lion's Club. Lion Carl Harris was presented his key in Lionism.

Dr. John Robertson gave further details of the soap box derby which will be sponsored by the club in the Spring. Forty to 50 entries are expected for the event which will probably be held in conjunction with the dedication of the baseball field at Robbins Farm. Mirak Chevrolet Company is supporting the derby and plans call for posters, prizes and a band concert.

"Derby Dope" will be published in local newspapers starting about March 1.

Plans for the club's charter night in April, the district convention at Springfield in June, and the international convention in New York next July were also outlined.

Movies were shown by Harold Creelman, representative of the E. F. Squibbs, Inc. Showing the progress that has been made in the pharmaceutical industry, the film demonstrated the exacting standards and procedures of the industry. It was the first showing in New England.

Two other films, one of radar as used by the Air Force, and another of war pictures taken in Japan were also shown.

TO HOLD EXAMINATION

The Division of Civil Service will hold an examination on March 6 to fill the office of Inspector of Animals in Arlington. Final date to file application with the Civil Service to take the examination is Feb. 16, the Selectmen have been advised.

March of Dimes Dance Due Tonight

Arlington's March of Dimes dance will be held tonight at the Robbins Town Hall with music by the popular Arcadians.

The dance is being sponsored by the Arlington Auxiliary and the Arlington Youth Association and every single penny collected will go to the infantile paralysis fund since the orchestra and others are donating their services.

Meanwhile William J. Sinclair, chairman of the local drive, appealed to the public to fill their dime cards and return them to the campaign treasurer before the end of the month. A total of 10,800 cards have been mailed to Arlington residents who were urged to fill the cards and return them so that Arlington's goal of $7500 may be met.

The drive ends Jan. 31.

Men's Class to Hear Talk by Dr. Hsieh

At next Sunday noon's meeting of the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church, Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, noted Chinese author and lecturer, will speak on "China's Vital Role in World Democracy."

Dr. Hsieh, author of "Confucius Said It First" and other books has won for himself the title of "the Roosevelt of China." A man of magnetic personality, his deep sincerity and earnestness make a lasting impression with his brilliant command of the English language. Chinese Ambassadors, Consul-Generals and many other international statesmen have highly commended his work.

Dr. Hsieh holds seven college degrees and is a life member of Aleppo Temple, Boston. A graduate of Cambridge University, he is considered by such authorities as Lowell Thomas to be "one of the brilliant speakers of our time."

The public is invited to attend the lecture.

Heights Study Club

About 25 members of the Arlington Heights Study Club attended a postponed meeting at the Dallin Library on Monday.

Mrs. Mariner and Mrs. MacNeel were hostesses during the coffee hour.

Mrs. Erwin Dushuttle read an entertaining paper on Irving Cobb, humorist, and Mrs. Verne Powell spoke on Cornelia Otis Skinner, after which Miss Nancy Gray read two of Miss Skinner's humorous sketches.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday at Mrs. Hayes' home.

'Home' Theme Of Meeting

American Home Day was observed at last Thursday afternoon's meeting of the Arlington Woman's Club held in Robbins Town Hall. Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield presided.

Mrs. Roy V. McCormack introduced Richard V. Tucker who gave a highly interesting talk on silver and showed various types and their uses.

He brought out that silver in early days was tied up with religious beliefs and was considered more valuable than gold. Sheffield silver, he said, was discovered 200 years ago and is solid silver welded to copper.

Most silver designs are traditional. The trend in new modern silver is toward clean cut lines. Old silver pieces have much artistry on them and can be restored to their original beauty, he said.

Thomas Hughes, engraver on silver, was invited to speak.

A woman's chorus from West Newton and Newton Highlands sang a group of seven songs. A collection was taken for the Infantile Paralysis Fund.

It was announced the club will support the Legislative bill to protect American elms.

More Religion Needed To Curb Juvenile Crime, Says F.B.I. Agent Here

The utmost cooperation between the church, school and home is needed if juvenile delinquency is to be reduced, John B. Greene, special agent of the F. B. I., told a group of representative citizens at a meeting sponsored by Menotomy chapter, D.A.R., in Robbins Library Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

Among those present were officers of Arlington clubs, school principals and teachers.

During the business meeting, Miss Jean DeFazio was selected by the D.A.R. chapter as the Good Citizenship Girl and will be guest of the chapter at the March conference in the Hotel Somerset on March 18 and 19.

Delegates elected to the national congress at Washington were Mrs. Terry Shuman, State recording secretary, as Regent's alternate; Mrs. Richard J. Linley as delegate; and Miss Hope Bullard and Mrs. Charles F. Morton and Mrs. Melville H. Rood, alternates. Delegates elected to the State meeting were Mrs. John S. Sampson, Regent; Mrs. L. Paul Monahan, Vice Regent; Mrs. Harold J. Shaw and Mrs. John Kennedy.

Appropriations were voted for the March of Dimes, the Arlington PTA Fine Arts program, the National D.A.R. Library, Tribute Grove and for the Junior American Citizens Club prizes.

Mrs. Rood, program chairman, introduced Mr. Greene. At the outset, he brought out that J. Edgar Hoover was personally interested in the problem of juvenile delinquency. For years, he said, authorities thought it was too delicate a problem for police officers who were hired for their brown to handle, but this thought had changed considerably.

The cost of crime is 15 million dollars a year and someone is murdered in this country every hour, he said. Youth, who make up 15 per cent of the population are accountable for 30 per cent of crime, Mr. Greene added.

F. B. I. agents who have investigated cases of juvenile delinquency in recent years, were unable to discover any one cause. However, they found many contributing factors such as broken homes, drunken fathers and immoral mothers, the special agent said.

Religion Needed
"J. Edgar Hoover has said that you cannot find any particular cause for juvenile delinquency, but you can trace it back to home environment. What we need is a return to an America with religion therein," Mr. Greene added.

"The greatest cause of delinquency today is lack of religion, because you don't see religious people casting responsibilities aside."

"The home, church and school should all play a part in reducing crime among young people. Unfortunately only 50 per cent of our people attend church. There is a great need for better cooperation among the three. For the police to do its job effectively, there is need for the same type of cooperation that was given law enforcement agencies during the war. Our citizenry is not cooperating with law enforcement agencies today. It must do so if juvenile problems are to be met."

He pleaded that parents be not guided by what their neighbors do, and that when they say "no" to their children that really mean "no". He asked that parents take a firm stand in supporting school teachers, also.

Law enforcing agencies, such as in Arlington, are doing a wonderful job in the juvenile crime prevention field, Agent Greene said at the close of his talk.

UNIVERSITY THEATRE

The program running Sunday through Tuesday at the University Theatre features Shirley Temple in "That Hagen Girl," adapted from the novel by Edith Roberts, an emotional social drama, depicts the heartaches and misery that can come to a young girl through malicious and unfair gossip in a small town.

The companion feature "Heaven Only Knows" starring Robt. Cummings and truly all-star cast is highly imaginative in conception with the plot laid in the 1880's has many extraordinary twists, combining fantasy and melodrama and presenting a good physiology of life and well seasoned humor.

The Wednesday review brings Victor McLaglen in the "Informer" and "These Three" with Joel McCrea, Merle Oberon and Miriam Hopkins. The fact that this is the seventh repeat at the University Theatre of the "Informer" should prove that this subject has always been an outstanding attraction.

—Herbert D. Stevens of Stevens terrace returned Saturday from a short stay in Florida.

Fractures Right Leg In Sliding Accident

Pauline Anifantis, 5, of 30 Fairmont st., suffered a broken right leg while sliding down a snow bank at the corner of Herbert road and Varnum st., last Thursday afternoon.

The child was taken to the Symmes Hospital.

When half of the Plymouth colony of Pilgrims died during their first winter in America, the survivors levelled the graves and sowed them with grain in the spring to conceal their losses from the Indians.
